With our furniture range we apply innovative ways of designing, making, and supplying lovely things with which to adorn rooms. Our work is lead with an ecological mindset as we have already gained a reputation for being one of the first to 'be the change we want to see in the world' when it come to waste and manufacturing.

Reupholstery and restoration will always be areas we remain deeply passionate about. For those who commission either of these services, the craftsmanship that goes into all aspects ultimately prevents treasured items ending their usefulness in landfill.
